

Besi Netherlands B.V.

Besi Netherlands B.V. is part of the international and listed BE Semiconductor Industries N.V. (Besil) (www.besil.com) and develops and produces machines for the semiconductor industry. Besil employs around 1,500 people worldwide. Besil Netherlands has outsourced the production to sister companies in Malaysia and China. Besil's customers are worldwide leading producers of chips and their suppliers. The Duiven location employs around 170 people.

For our Product Management group we are looking for an ambitious

Product Manager Molding

As a Product Manager it is your responsibility to make sure that the products are in line with the chosen strategy and goals of Besil Packaging. You manage the complete product cycle of the products from strategy till introduction. Next to this you develop and implement a go-to-market plan. Besides you are responsible for the targeted sales figures. In this function you report to the Director Product Management.

Marketing & product development

- Collecting and analyzing market information, understanding of customer requirements and roadmaps as well competitors capabilities
- Determining trends
- Setting up of roadmaps
- Setting up of new product requirement specifications

Sales support

- Developing promotional material
- Promoting products at all stakeholders
- Providing sales training
- Supporting CPM by delivering product, configuration and/or result specifications

We are looking for

- A candidate with a Bachelor in mechanical engineering
- Thorough knowledge of the semiconductor industry
- Demonstrable commercial skills
- Experience with project management
- Good command of English
- Willingness to travel on regular basis to customers, mainly in Asia

Further information

If you would like further information about this position please contact Mike Krabben, Director Product Management (tel + 31 6 20360275 or mike.krabben@besil.com)

Apply

Please send your resume and motivation letter to hr.besinetherlands@besil.com before 24-8-2020